Product training starts now

Grow your book of business with Regence

We're excited to let you know about our 2024 line of Individual, Group, Medicare, and ancillary solutions. We're making things easier for you by offering live and on-demand webinar training options that will highlight important product changes and areas of differentiation.

In some markets, we're also offering an in-person learning option and opportunity to meet with our sales representatives and get printed handouts. All training and training materials will be accessible in Producer Center after the live webinar date. You can refer to them as needed throughout the enrollment period.

Registration is now open so please register today! Also, we encourage you to forward this invitation to your support team, so they are updated on our 2024 products and solutions as well.

Note, you'll need to register for each training session individually.

We know that you have a choice when it comes to recommending carriers to your clients, and we want to be your preferred partner.

If you need support to write new business before these trainings, please contact your sales representative. We look forward to the opportunity to expand your book of business with us.
